The National Scenic Byways Program

The National Scenic Byways Program, established by Congress in 1991, recognizes historic, scenic and culturally important roads and promotes tourism and economic development in nearby communities. Four of the 150 National Scenic Byways that have been designated are in Oklahoma, including Historic Route 66 and the Talimena Scenic Drive. Route 66, sometimes called “The Mother Road”, brings travelers from across the world to experience both America’s and Oklahoma’s history. Talimena Scenic Drive offers panoramic views of some of the most breathtaking areas Oklahoma has to offer within the Ouachita National Forest.
