

North Carolina

The National Scenic Byways Program

The National Scenic Byways Program, established by Congress in 1991, recognizes historic, scenic, and culturally important roads and promotes tourism and economic development in nearby communities. North Carolina is home to 63 scenic byways, five of which have earned the designation of National Scenic Byways. Two of those, the Blue Ridge Parkway and the Newfound Gap Road Byway, have earned the distinction of being named All-American Roads, the gold-standard of scenic byways. North Carolina is home to some of the most beautiful national parks in the country, and the byways play an integral role in visitors' experience with the parks. From the Blue Ridge Mountains to the historically and culturally significant sites of Cherokee cultural heritage to cascading waterfalls, scenic byways offer a unique way to experience the state of North Carolina. Each byway also offers visitors access to local communities, which promotes economic development.

Key points:

- North Carolina boasts 63 Scenic Byways, including five National Scenic Byways and 58 State and Other Scenic Byways.
- A study of the Blue Ridge Parkway concluded that visitor spending effected local economies to the tune of \$1.3 billion and supported nearly 16,000 jobs.
- The tourism sector as a whole generated \$22.9 billion in 2016 and supported over 218,000 jobs.
- Visitors contributed nearly \$5.1 million per day in state and local tax revenues ($1.8 billion per year) which saves the average household about $500 annually.
